

ROOSEVELT WAS VERY ELOQUENT

Delivered Telling Address at Fargo, N. D., on Philippines and Their Government.

EXCELLENT TALK

The President Was at His Very Best, and Gave a Most Able Address.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae) Fargo, N. D., April 7.—President Roosevelt arrived here early this morning and before one of the largest audiences that have greeted him since he came into this country, delivered a speech.

Noted Address His talk was upon the Philippines and upon the work done there by the soldiers, both volunteers and otherwise. He also spoke of the civil authorities' work. His speech in full follows:

My Fellow Citizens: The Northwest, whose sons in the Civil War added such brilliant pages to the honor roll of the republic, likewise bore a full share in the struggle of which the war with Spain was the beginning; a struggle slight indeed when compared with the gigantic death wrestle which for four years stamped to and fro across the Southern States in the Civil War; but a struggle fraught with consequences to the nation, and indeed to the world, out of all proportion to the smallness of the effort on our part.

Three and a half years ago President McKinley spoke in the adjoining state of Minnesota on the occasion of the return of the Thirtieth Minnesota Volunteers from the Philippine Islands, where they had served with your own gallant sons of the North Dakota regiment. After heartily thanking the returned soldiers for their valor and patriotism, and their contemptuous refusal to be daunted or misled by the outcry raised at home by the men of little faith, who wished us to abandon the islands, he spoke of the islands themselves as follows:

"That Congress will provide for them a government which will bring them blessings, which will promote their material interests as well as advance their people in the path of civilization and intelligence, I confidently believe. They will not be governed as vassals or serfs or slaves. They will be given a government of liberty, regulated by law honestly administered, without oppressing exactions, taxation without justice, without bribe, education without distinction of social condition, freedom of religious worship, and protection in life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

What he said then lay in the realm of promise. Now it lies in the realm of positive performance.

It is a good thing to look back upon what has been said and compare it with the record of what has actually been done. If promises are violated, if pledged word is not kept, then those who have failed in their duty should be held up to reprobation. If, on the other hand, the promises have been substantially made good; if the achievement has kept pace and more than kept pace with the prophecy, then they who made the one and are responsible for the other are entitled of just right to claim the credit which attaches to those who serve the nation well. This credit I claim for the men who have managed so admirably the military and the civil affairs of the Philippine Islands, and for those other men who have so heartily backed them in Congress and without whose aid and support not one thing could have been accomplished.

When President McKinley spoke, the first duty was the restoration of order; and to this end the use of the Army of the United States—an Army composed of regulars and volunteers alike—was necessary. To put down the insurrection and restore peace to the islands was a duty not only to ourselves but to the islanders also. We could not have abandoned the conflict without shirking this duty, without proving ourselves recreants to the memory of our forefathers. Moreover, if we would have inflicted upon the Filipinos the most cruel wrong and would have doomed them to a bloody jumble of anarchy and tyranny. It seems strange, looking back, that any of our people should have failed to recognize a duty so obvious; but there was such a failure, and the government at home, the civil authorities in the Philippines, and above all our gallant army, had to do their work amid a storm of detraction. The army in especial was attacked in a way which finally did good, for in the end it aroused the heart of the great body of the American people; not against the army, but against the army's traducers. The circumstances of the war made it one of peculiar difficulty, and our soldiers were exposed to peculiar wrongs from their foes. They fought in dense tropical jungles against enemies who were very treacherous and very cruel, not only toward our own men, but toward the great numbers of friendly natives.

SNOWSTORM RAGES OVER NORTH DAKOTA

Seeding Is Delayed a Week or Ten Days by Fierce Blizzard and Stock May Suffer.

Crookston, Minn., April 7.—A snowstorm has been raging over North Dakota and northern Minnesota. The storm traveled eastward, covering a strip from Fargo to Winnipeg. The fall here was from two to four inches, reaching from Glyndon to the north of the Canadian line. At Minot, N. D., the fall of snow was six inches. It will delay seeding from a week to ten days.

Morris, Minn., April 7.—A heavy snowstorm, accompanied by a high northwest wind, has prevailed over this section, stopping preparations for seeding which were begun last week. Grand Forks, N. D., April 7.—A fierce blizzard is raging, the worst of the winter. The snow is wet and the wind is blowing a gale. It is feared that stock will suffer severely, as the storm came without warning.

WANTED FORTUNE

It Is Alleged She Was Desirous of Inheriting a Large Estate Alone.

Strange Circumstances The case began when the elder Von Goltz died under suspicious circumstances. He left his late estate to his widow and three sons. Two of these committed suicide and the third died supposedly from poison administered by his mother.

Grandson's Story The Frau then found her grandson would share in the estate and she tried to have him put out of the way. He waited for his opportunity and petitioned the emperor for protection which brought about the present trial.

A message from President Palma was read. The president says negotiations have been completed providing for the entrance of Cuba in the postal union.

Herron, attorney for the saloonists, has announced that they have given up the fight and will not ask for renewals of expired licenses. This covers thirteen of the most fashionable drinking places in the city, including the bars at all the leading hotels, and shut them out of business for two years. Miss Styer is now going after suburban drink shops and hopes to make Kokomo with its 16,000 population a "dry" town.

PUBLISHER IS CAUGHT BY LAW

John F. Judy, a Well Known Indiana Financier, Charged with Stealing Horses.

MANY SURPRISED

Is Indicted on Three Counts of Conspiracy; Also That of Horse Stealing.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae) Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—John F. Judy, an inventor, publisher, an editor and a financier of wide reputation was arrested today on three accounts of conspiracy and horse theft of a livery stable in this city last May.

Is a Surprise The arrest of Mr. Judy is a surprise to his friends. He is well known in the financial world and is also a prominent politician. He owns and manages the Indianapolis Call, one of the prominent papers here.

INGALLS LOSES AT CINCINNATI

Defeat Destroys Railway Magnates' Hopes For Any National Preference.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae) Cincinnati, April 7.—Julius Fleischmann has been re-elected mayor on the Republican ticket over President M. E. Ingalls of the Big Four Railway by a majority of 15,400. Fleischmann's plurality for mayor three years ago was 5,500. All the Republican ticket is re-elected by big majorities. Major Hosea for superior court judge was badly slashed, but is elected by a majority that will approximate 10,000.

The Socialist ticket was second on the ballot. Prohibitionists third and fusionists fourth. It was expected that, owing to the Socialist ticket being next to the Republican ticket, the Socialist vote would be very large, but the returns show that the total Socialist vote was only 3,774.

The villages of Bond Hill, Evanston, Hyde Park and Winton Place were annexed to Cincinnati by a decisive vote.

It would seem that Mr. Ingalls' alleged aspirations for the White House have been nipped in the bud by the heavy frost the Democratic fusion or citizens' ticket encountered. Senator Foraker, in an interview that was widely publicized, declared that Mr. Ingalls headed a movement against the Republican party all over the country, and that his election as mayor of Cincinnati would put him directly in line for United States senator and the presidency.

DOES NOT AFFECT CITY RAILWAY

Council's Granting Traction Company a Franchise, Does Not Injure Blabon's Line.

Supt. Murphy of the City Railway company says that the action taken by the city council in granting a franchise to the Janesville Traction company will not interfere in any way with their plans and the prospective improvements will be started upon at once. What had been feared was that the company would be given a line on Milwaukee street parallel to the present tracks, which would mean a distinct loss in fares to the city company. As it is the only parallel track given is on Main street for one block. A twenty-minute schedule with the system centering at the Myers House will be put into effect by the first of May if possible.

FUTURE TRADING IS GAMBLING

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Judge Elmer B. Adams in the United States Circuit court here decided that Chicago board of trade quotations as sent over the tickers were records of gambling transactions and not entitled to the protection of the courts.

REVIVALIST BIEDERWOLF CLOSES A MOST SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

HIS WORK IN THE CITY HAS GOOD RESULTS.

MANY BECAME CHRISTIANS

Both He and Singer Stout Have Brought Many To See the Errors of Their Way.

Last evening closed the series of evangelistic meetings held by Biederwolf and Stout. The meeting was one of the best of the series. A large and appreciative audience filled the Congregational church and many were the manifestations of appreciation on the part of the people and clergy at having had the pleasure and benefit of these meetings.

The meeting was opened by the usual song service, the people and choir joining heartily with Prof. Stout in the rendition of the selections.

Prof. Stout singing as solos the beautiful hymns of "Nearer My God to Thee," and "No Burdens Allowed to Pass Through."

Dr. Biederwolf opened the meeting with an informal talk, thanking the people for their co-operation with him in the work, the workers for their kind and able assistance, the press for its open pages, and the people for their generous financial contribution for his time and labor.

Prof. Stout also expressed in strong and touching language his desire to do all the good he could, saying that his voice belonged to the Lord and it was his intention to use it to further his work and if his songs had been any help or pleasure to the people he was more than satisfied.

Mr. Stout also spoke in the highest terms of his associate, Dr. Biederwolf, and said that he had never been associated with a man whose heart was more thoroughly in his work than was Mr. Biederwolf's.

At the close of Dr. Biederwolf's opening remarks, the several members of the local clergy were given an opportunity to express their feelings in regard to the value of the meetings and the association with these gentlemen, to which opportunity they responded in words of strong appreciation of the good resulting from the meetings and the association with these gentlemen, to which with these men.

Mr. Biederwolf and Mr. Stout have now been with the people of this city for over two weeks, holding services afternoons and evenings, to large audiences and if the size of the attendance and the response of the people to the invitation to join the hosts of the Lord, are the means of judging of the success of the meetings then they have been very successful indeed.

Every evening has seen a great many hands raised at the invitation to come and declare on which side they stood and the enthusiasm and earnestness of the people has been very marked, cards to the number of over 400 had been signed before last evening, declaring by their signature to lead a Christian life and the number who have so declared themselves by the raising of hands cannot be known.

Mr. Biederwolf and wife have been the guests of Rev. Henderson, a well-known friend of theirs, and Judge J. H. Middle has entertained Prof. Stout for at least a part of his stay here.

Mr. Biederwolf left this city this morning for Fond du Lac of Wisconsin where he will open a series of meetings in that city.

Prof. Stout also left, he going to his home in Philadelphia, from where he will soon leave for a city in Massachusetts where he joins another evangelist to continue his work.

These two gentlemen take with them as they go from us the hearty thanks of the people of this city and the wishes of all for a bright and helpful future.

The sermon which was delivered last evening was addressed with many words of encouragement to those who have lately taken their first step along the line to a Christian life, with words of commendation to those already in the fold and a strong appeal to those who have yet to declare themselves.

Dr. Biederwolf in his address spoke as follows:

Farewell Sermon
Cor. 13:12.—"Finally brethren farewell."

And now I'd like to preach one last brief sermon to those who have come to the eleventh hour. Dear friend, I wish I might be able to open my heart tonight that you might see what is there. I have not been unkind of our words and gifts, I am not insensible to the comforts of this life, but God knows I would not come here for yours but for you and if there is one soul that can enter heaven in the eternal world only through some sacrifice that I might make I'd rather see that one come to God than to have all the wealth of your city. This is the sad part about such meetings. That there are those who if they do not yield themselves to God tonight will be farther away from the kingdom than they were when these meetings commenced. How strange it is that there are those who know they are sinners in the sight of God, who have sane thoughts on the eternal destiny of the soul and yet with the promise of God's help to read a right life and forgiveness when they fail, will allow their dear ones, some faithful wife or some precious mother to carry a load all through life because of unanswered prayer and go down into the grave with heavy hearts because you will not yield yourself to God.

At the close of a meeting in Wisconsin an aged mother came to me and turning her face away to hide the tears she said, "I can't stand it, I can't stand it," and I said, "What is it you can't stand?" and she said, "To have the meetings close," but I answered, "Why not? The time has come." My dear friend, I would say to you out of a loving heart if you let these meetings close without yielding yourself to God they will not leave you in the condition you were before they commenced. Yes, this is the sad part of it all, that while to some they have been a Savior of life, unto others, if not of life, they will have been a Savior of death. I do not know if you have a mother who has been praying and agonizing for you as that mother I mentioned a moment ago, but if you have or any other dear ones who have besought God in your behalf, it might be well to look in their faces while you may, for if you have determined to go from these meetings unsaved it may be going into spiritual death and they will not be with you in the life to come, and when you have gone hence you will remember their prayers and their concern. You will recall these meetings, how we sang, "We shall reach the river side some sweet day," the oft repeated invitation and all that was done to bring you to God, but it will be too late, for there is no opportunity in the grave whether thou goest.

GOOD CONCERT BY JUBILEE SINGERS

Last Number of the Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course Was Very Well Attended.

The last of the series of entertainments given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was rendered last evening by the Dixie Jubilee Singers to a large and appreciative audience.

The large lecture room of the Y. M. C. A. building was packed to overflowing and even standing room was at a premium. The Jubilee Singers consist of four gentlemen and three ladies, Miss Jones occupying at the piano. The entertainment last evening consisted of a number of our old favorite southern songs and a number of more modern selections and their work in both classes of songs was warmly received by the audience. The members of the troupe are all artists and were encored again and again, responding willingly to the calls of the people. It would be hard to say who were the favorites for they all did well and earned their applause.

Minstrel Style
The singers were seated in a circle on the platform somewhat after the form of a minstrel troupe, with an end man who amused the people with side remarks and jestures. Miss Jones' rendition of a piano solo, "The Star Spangled Banner," with variations was very good as was also the mandolin solo by Mr. J. H. Johnson.

Good Singing
A baritone solo by Mr. Willoughby and Coming Through the Rye by Madam W. C. Buckner were both excellent. The following is a partial list of the program: Opening choruses, While to Music Entrenching, Ding Dong Bells, Suwanee River, My Old Kentucky Home, Dusky Maids, Star Spangled Banner, Piano solo, Asleep at the Switch, Lady Baritone, Miss Belle Stone, Coming Through the Rye, Solo, Madam W. C. Buckner, Getting More Like White Folks Every Day, How to Spell Chicken, Rocked in the Cradle of Deep, Solo, Kentucky Ballo, W. C. Buckner, Calliope Barnum.

PROF. BOLLEY TO MAKE LONG TRIP

Husband of a Former Janesville Girl Made Important Discovery and Will Go Abroad to Investigate.

Prof. H. L. Bolley of the North Dakota Agricultural college, accompanied by his wife, formerly Miss Frances Sheldon, daughter of A. H. Sheldon of this city, will start on June 1 for an European trip in the interest of further knowledge of flax and its diseases. He will make the trip at the instruction of the department of agriculture at Washington. He was the first to discover flax sick soil, and later the possibility of raising flax in flax by the propagation of certain seeds that can grow in any flax sick soil. So important are these discoveries that the department will send him to Russia and later over the greater part of Europe, occupying six or nine months for the trip.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, April 7, 1893.—The election in Connecticut has resulted in the union cause. Seymour and Copperheadism are repudiated. They made the issue too plain and direct between loyalty and dishonor, and hence their overthrow. This defeat will exercise a wholesome influence over the democratic party, and incline them to make less open opposition to the cause of the union. The majority of the republican candidates for governor will exceed three thousand. The republicans have elected two members of congress and the democrats one.

Public sentiment does not go backward in Missouri. The radicals have just elected their mayor in St. Louis by 2,200 majority, and the same party have made clean sweeps of the municipal offices of Jefferson City. The unconditional union men of every slave state will be com-

FRANCHISE WAS GIVEN LAST NIGHT

JANESVILLE TRACTION CO. SECURES RIGHT TO BUILD ROAD.

SUITS WERE TO BE SETTLED

The First Steps Taken to Dismiss Civic Suits Against Council and Aldermen.

Franchise privileges were last evening granted by the common council which will allow the Janesville Traction company—otherwise known as the Clough concern, to build and operate a line from this city to Madison. There were those who believed that the matter would be held over for a new council to settle, but it was soon evident that the city "dads" had made up their minds to action, and when the vote was put there was not a dissenting ballot. Only a veto from the mayor can now annul the decision.

Chief among the inducements offered by the Janesville Traction company at the last moment, with a view to turning opinion in their direction was an agreement to give transfers from the Beloit, Janesville and Delavan Lake line to the Janesville Traction company's line, in case the franchise grant was made. In view of the advantage of such an agreement to the working men of the city who would be able to travel to their places of business over these lines, petitions were presented from the employees of the Chouteau-Hollister works, the Vudor Shade company, the Jeffris company, Thorouggood and company, F. M. Marshall and company, the Rock River Machine company, and the Rock River Woolen mills.

Many Petitions
Petitions were also presented from the merchants of Beloit and Rockford, making a total of a round dozen petitions in favor of the line. Perhaps as insignificant as any one of the long list of petitions was one signed by the merchants of South Main street between Court street and Milwaukee street. They asked that the Janesville Traction company be allowed to build a track along Main street in that block, provided satisfactory arrangements could not be made with the city company for occupying their tracks.

Objection to Franchise
When the third and last reading of the franchise was moved, Alderman Mills made objection on the ground that a fifty-year grant was too important a matter to be hastily decided upon. He advocated the appointment of two competent attorneys to go over the ordinance with the city attorney, in the hope of discovering any possible loop holes of advantage for the company asking the franchise.

Alderman Rice, of the highway committee, who moved the passage of the Janesville Traction company's ordinance, rather than that of the Southern Wisconsin Interurban Railroad company, declared that five or six weeks had been taken to investigate the question, and that on the street there seemed to be unanimity of opinion in favor of the former company.

Before the vote was taken an amendment had been adopted granting to the company the right to use other streets than those originally provided for.

Dismissal of Suits

Preliminary steps were taken by the council toward the dismissal of the three suits started by the Municipal league, viz., F. E. Fifield and J. S. Fifield vs. John Brown, I. F. Connor, et al; G. S. Parker vs. H. S. Gilkey, and G. S. Parker vs. J. B. McLean, in all of which the city was made party to the action without costs. An order was passed authorizing the city attorney to sign stipulations consenting on the part of the city to a dismissal of these actions.

Orders were then passed authorizing the payment to Brown and Connor of the sums due on the Wall and North Franklin street improvement contracts. On Wall street the amount from the general fund was $219.21 and from the special improvement fund $3,655.81; on North Franklin the amount from the special fund was $2,815.47.

A rebate order for $17.25 on taxes illegally assessed against I. Fletcher of the Bower City Creamery company was passed.

All of these orders came under the work of the highway committee and were presented by Alderman Rice.

Fun in 5th Ward
Alderman McLean presented an order for a brick crosswalk across Milwaukee street at Marion street, and also across the east side of Center avenue to School street, and across the west side of Jackson street to Dodge street. A little fun arose over objection made to this order by Alderman Kothman. When he asked that the roll be called for the vote, McLean made a quick retreat.

"The Fifth ward has got money to burn, and this comes from the Fifth ward fund. The other wards haven't anything to say about it."

Two more meetings will be held by the present council. One on Friday night to canvass the election returns and one next Monday when all business will be closed.

On motion of Alderman Rice the meeting adjourned to Friday.

Present, Aldermen Judd, Mills, Rice, Hemming, Kothman, Murray, and McLean.

THIRD PARTY HOLD MEETING

The Social Democrats Listen to a Talk by Howard Tuttle of Milwaukee.

Joseph Delaney occupied the chairman's seat at the social democratic meeting at Foresters' hall last evening and introduced the speakers of the evening, Howard Tuttle of Milwaukee, with a few well chosen words. Mr. Tuttle was the social democratic party candidate for mayor of Milwaukee last spring and impressed one as a man of strong intellect and honest convictions.

He opened his remarks with a statement that he wished every one to understand that he nor any other socialist entertained any feelings of animosity toward the people either as individuals or as a political body, that what the socialists desired was a government of the people which would give every one a fair chance and an equal footing.

Stand Together

Among other things Mr. Tuttle urged the necessity for the people of his behalf to stand together and work for the common good and to vote for the ones who stood for their ideas. He pointed out in clear and strong language how the rich people were in power and that they were making laws at every session of the legislature for their benefit and against the interests of the poor and working men. That the fault was to a large extent their own; they allowed themselves to be fooled with a pleasant word, look or cigar before the election into believing that they were hand in hand with the political powers and in a direct line for a fat official position at the hands of their aldermen.

Not Thrown Away
He told them that while they might lose at the election yet their vote was not thrown away, that each time the party polled a larger vote, that their influence increased and that their growth was not only an encouragement to themselves, but had the same effect upon the members of the party in other places.

Met Rose's Challenge
Speaking of the recent election for mayor in the city of Milwaukee he said that Mayor Rose during his campaign challenged opposition and that the socialist party of that city offered to meet and contest in open debate, but that Rose was afraid to meet them and avoided the issue. The result of the recent elections and the coal famine and strikes in that city had raised the membership of the socialist party in Milwaukee from 5700 to 7000 and from that to 12000 so that today one out of every five men that you meet in that city is a socialist.

Their Own Fair Fight

Mr. Tuttle criticised the working men of the day for not standing up for what they knew was right and said that when a man is working, is well fed and clothed that he is indifferent to the calls of the socialist, that then he avoids the subject and is not a good listener, but just wait until there is a strike or they are out of work and then you will see them flocking to the halls and will listen to socialistic by the hour.

The Courts

He pointed out by the Debs case how the courts were by their ability able to construe the laws to their own wishes, twisting the rights of freedom to the common people and told them that their willingness to accept the word of the judges as the law of the land was contrary to reason and to their own good. He said that if you go to any of our great and famous lawyers and ask them what the law is in a certain case that they will take down their books and tell you that their opinion is, that in their opinion you have a good case; they don't know, but let a poor man who has had no opportunity to secure an education stand before a court and say that I did not know what the law was and that he will be told that ignorance of the law excuses no one.

Wants Recruits
What socialism wants is men of intelligence, men of strength, men who when they know what is right and for the good of the people are not afraid to stand up and say it and work for it.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon.

Tuesday before Easter; For the Epistle Isa. 1. 5.—The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded; therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near me. Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up. Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of His servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks; walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of my hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

ROOSEVELT WAS VERY ELEGANT

the most peaceable and most civilized among them, who eagerly welcomed our rule. Under such circumstances, among a hundred thousand hot-blooded and powerful young men serving in small detachments on the other side of the globe it was impossible that occasional instances of wrong-doing should not occur. The fact that they occurred in well high intolerable provocation cannot for one moment be admitted in the way of excuse or justification. All good Americans regret and deplore them, and the War Department has taken every step in its power to punish the offenders and to prevent or minimize the chance of repetition of the offense. But these offenses were the exception and not the rule. As a whole, our troops showed not only signal courage and efficiency, but great humanity and the most sincere desire to promote the welfare and liberties of the islanders. In a series of harassing and difficult campaigns, they completely overthrew the enemy, reducing them finally to a condition of mere brigandage; and wherever they conquered, they conquered only to make way for the rule of the civil government, for the introduction of law and of liberty under law. When, by last July, the last vestige of organized insurrection had disappeared, peace and amnesty were proclaimed.

As rapidly as the military rule was extended over the islands by the defeat of the insurgents, just so rapidly was it replaced by the civil government. At the present time the civil government is supreme and the army in the Philippines has been reduced until it has sufficient merely to provide against the recurrence of trouble. In Governor Taft and his associates we sent to the Philippines as upright, as conscientious, and as able a group of administrators as ever any country has been blessed with having. With them and under them, we have associated the best men among the Filipinos, so that the great majority of the officials, including many of the highest rank, are themselves natives of the islands. The administration is incorruptibly honest; justice is as jealously safeguarded as here at home. The government is conducted purely in the interests of the people of the islands; they are protected in their religious and civil rights; they have been given an excellent and well administered school system, and each of them now enjoys rights to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" such as were never known before in all the history of the islands.

The Congress which has just adjourned has passed legislation of high importance and great wisdom in the interests of the Filipino people. First and foremost, they conferred upon him by law the present admirable civil government; in addition they gave them an excellent currency; they passed a measure allowing the organization of a native constabulary; and they provided in the interests of the islands, for a reduction of twenty-five percent, in the tariff on Filipino articles brought to this country. I asked that a still further reduction should be made. It was not granted by the last Congress, but I think that in some shape it will be granted by the next. And even without it, the record of legislation in the interests of the Filipinos is one with which we might have a right to feel great satisfaction.

Moreover, Congress appropriated three million dollars, following the precedent it set when the people of Porto Rico were afflicted by sudden disaster; this money to be used by the Philippine government in order to meet the distress occasioned primarily by the terrible cattle disease, which almost annihilated the carabao or water-buffalo, the chief and most important domestic animal in the islands. Coming as this disaster did upon the heels of the havoc wrought by the insurrectionary war, great suffering has been caused and this misery, for which this government is in no way responsible will doubtless in turn increase the difficulties of the Philippine government for the next year or so. In consequence there will doubtless here and there occur sporadic increases of the armed brigandage to which the islanders have been habituated from time immemorial, and here and there for their own purposes the bandits may choose to style themselves patriots or insurrectionists; but these local difficulties will be of little consequence save as they give occasion to a few men here at home again to try to mislead our people. Not only has the military problem in the Philippines been worked out quicker and better than we dared to expect, but the progress socially and in civil government has like wise exceeded our fondest hopes. The best thing that can be done in handling these problems as that in the Philippines is to put the best man in charge, and give him the heartiest possible support and freest possible hand. This is what has been done with Gov. Taft. There is not in this nation, a higher or finer type of public servant than Gov. Taft. He has rendered inestimable service, not only to people of the Philippines, but to the people of the United States. Remember always that in the Philippines the American Government has tried and is trying to carry out exactly what the greatest genius and most revered patriot ever known in the Philippine Islands—Jose Rizal—steadfastly advocated. This man, shortly before his death, in a message to his countrymen, under date of December 16, 1896, condemned unsparringly the insurrection of Aguinaldo, terminated just before our navy appeared upon the scene, and pointed out the path his people should follow to liberty and enlightenment. Speaking of the insurrection and of the pretense that Filipino independence of a character could thereby be obtained, he wrote:

"When in spite of my advice a movement was begun, I offered of my own accord, not only my services, but my life and even my good name to be used in any way they might believe effective in stilling the rebellion. I thought of the success of the revolution, and I deemed myself fortunate if by any sacrifice, I could block the progress of such a useless calamity.

"My countrymen, I have given proof that I was one who sought liberty for our country and I still seek it. But as a first step I insisted upon the development of the people in order that by means of education and labor, they might acquire the proper individual character and force which would make them worthy of it. In my writings I have commended to you study and civic virtue, without which our redemption does not exist. I can not do less than condemn, and I do condemn, this absurd and savage insurrection planned behind my back, which dishonors us before the Filipinos and discredits us with those who otherwise would argue in our behalf. I abominate its cruelties, and disavow any kind of connection with it, regretting with all the sorrow of my soul that these reckless men have allowed themselves to be deceived. Let them return, then, to their homes, and may God pardon those who have acted in bad faith."

This message embodied precisely and exactly the avowed policy upon which the American Government has acted in the Philippines. What the patriot Rizal said with such force, to those who foolishly or wickedly opposed the mild and beneficent government we were instituting in the islands. The judgment of the martyred public servant, Rizal whose birthday, the Philippine people celebrate, and whom they worship as their hero and ideal, sets forth the duty of American sovereignty; a duty from which the American people will never flinch.

While we have been doing these great and beneficent work in the islands, we have yet been steadily reducing the cost at which they are done. The last Congress repealed the law for the war taxes, and the War Department has reduced the army from the maximum number of one hundred thousand allowed under the law to very nearly the minimum of sixty thousand.

Moreover, the last Congress enacted some admirable legislation affecting the army, passing first of all the militia bill and then the law to create a general staff. The militia bill represents the realization of a reform which had been championed ineffectively by Washington and had been fruitlessly agitated ever since. At last we have taken from the statute books the obsolete militia law of the Revolutionary days and have provided for efficient aid to the national guard of the States. I believe that no other great country has such fine natural material for volunteer soldiers as we have, and it is the obvious duty of the nation and of the States to make such provision as will enable this volunteer soldiery to be organized with all possible rapidity and efficiency in time of war; and, furthermore, to help in every way the national guard in time of peace. The militia law enacted by the congress marks the first long step ever taken in this direction by the National Government.

The general staff law is of immense importance and benefit to the regular army. Individually I would not admit that the American regular, either officer or enlisted man, is inferior to any other regular soldier in the world. In fact, if it were worth while to boast, I should be tempted to say that he was best. But there must be proper training, proper organization and administration, in order to get the best service out of every the best troops. This is particularly the case with such a small army as ours, scattered over so vast a country. We do not need a large regular army, but we do need to have our small regular army the very best that can possibly be produced. Under the worn out and ineffective organization that has hitherto existed, a sudden strain is absolutely certain to produce the dislocation and confusion we saw at the outbreak of the war with Spain; and when such dislocation and confusion occurs it is easy and natural that entirely improper, to blame the men who happen to be in office, instead of the system which is really responsible. Under the law just enacted by Congress this system will be changed, immensely for the better.

and every patriot American ought to rejoice: for when we come to see Army and the Navy, we deal with the honor and interests of all our people; and when such is the case, party lines are as nothing, and we all stand shoulder to shoulder as Americans, moved only by pride in and love for our common country.

THE JANSVILLE GAZETTE

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Possibly showers tonight; Wednesday warmer.

THE PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt possesses a strong personality and it was never more pronounced than during his visit to Wisconsin last week. He is absolutely fearless, and always natural. The old soldiers at the national home felt that he was a comrade and when he relaxed and threw off restraint at the Deutscher and Press clubs, he captured the German and newspaper men, and they felt that he was a man among men.

His address at the banquet brought out another side of his nature, and his thoughtful utterances commanded the respect of his intelligent audience.

A part of his speech in the assembly chamber at Madison was evidently intended for the boys at the university, but it was well timed and sparked with truths that should command the attention of young men throughout the country.

The president is a whole souled man. The people like his rough and ready style, and he has a hold upon the masses that makes him very popular.

He is stronger in the West, than in the East, because the West is less conservative. While a college-bred man, he is not too heavy on that account.

He will be the next republican nominee for president without opposition, and he will be elected on the tariff issue if the democratic party decides to make that the issue of the campaign.

STRAINING A POINT

The Milwaukee Journal, with an eye to windward, discovers in President Roosevelt's Wisconsin speeches, symptoms of La Folletteism in marked degree. What he had to say about honesty on the stump and honesty in office is applied to the governor and is regarded as a direct slap at the conservative element of the party.

When the Journal goes out after a case, the paper usually succeeds in finding the material. It is sometimes manufactured to order, as is the case under discussion. It does not require a very long stretch of memory to recall that the president expressed a great deal of satisfaction in Senator Spooner's return to the senate. He is well aware of the fact that Senator Spooner refused to endorse the governor's visionary schemes and that because of his attitude, he was roundly denounced by state administration supporters.

He is also conscious of the fact that conservative republicanism re-elected the senior senator, and that this element represents Wisconsin republicans today.

President Roosevelt is not a radical reformer and he has never displayed any populist tendencies. He would like to see Wisconsin republicans harmonious. He realizes that when the senate accepted the assembly primary bill, with a referendum, that a disposition was given to redeem party pledges and that the responsibility now rests with the administration. If there was any significance in what he had to say, it applied to the radical, and not the conservative wing of the party.

SENATOR STOUT'S ATTITUDE

Glenwood Tribune: Senator Stout's attitude is a puzzle to his friends up in this neck of the woods. Notwithstanding the object lesson held up before him last summer of the gullibility of the administration inner circle, and which he appeared at that time to repulse, he has stood by every radical revolutionary act of the administration gang at Madison during the present session and given aid and comfort to the very men whose venality and duplicity he had so good evidence of last year. Stout is a man whose cleanliness, honesty, and loftiness of purpose are above suspicion, and when his ordinary level-headedness as a business man is considered it seems strange that his eyes have not yet become opened to the folly of giving unqualified support to anything emanating from the sanctum sanctorum of La Folletteism.

There are many republicans round the state who are at a loss to understand why Senator Stout has pursued the course that he has during the session of the legislature. The Senator is recognized as a peace loving man, ready to endure both insult and injury for the sake of harmony. While this spirit is commendable it does not always win.

It is painfully apparent to the most casual observer that peace is not desired by the element of the party, which attempted to read out of it all members who would not bow to dictation.

The friends of Senator Stout attempted to defend him in the gallant fight that he made for Superintendent Harvey last summer. These friends were all found in the ranks of conservative republicanism. They now have occasion to feel that their efforts were not fully appreciated.

A GOOD ESTIMATE

D. C. McMillan, a manufacturer of lumber was here this week to add his mite to the opposition to the bill for the appointment of a freight commission. A gentleman asked him in fun if he thought he knew more about freight rates than the governor did. He replied by telling the following story: "Longfellow could take a sheet of worthless paper and write a poem on it that would sell for $5,000; that was genius. J. P. Morgan can take a piece of paper and by writing a few words on it make it worth $1,000,000, that is capital. A mechanic can turn a pound of steel into $800 worth of watch springs, that is skill. A man can buy something for $1 and sell it for $2, that is business. But when a man says a $1 article is worth $2, that is gall."

"I believe that you were intimating that the governor knows more about freight than a man who has paid lots of it in twenty-seven years. That comes under the heading of gall, too."—Uncle Dick Petherick, in Milwaukee Sentinel.

TRUST METHODS

One of the most important factors in municipal affairs is the paving of the streets in the cities and towns. During the last twenty years asphalt obtained great popularity, which feeling has changed, through its many defects, coupled with the absorption of all the companies under the trust control. That something is radically wrong is evidenced by the great difference in prices that were paid a few years ago and the last contracts made in New York last week. As high as $6.25 a square yard was paid a short time ago, and the last contracts were let at prices which are as ruinously low as $6.25 was extortionately high. The ruinously low price is an attempt to curb competition that cannot prevail, nor can the trust prevent the laying of other pavements.

It is public property that the immense watered capital of the Asphalt Trust proved a gigantic financial bubble. As a final struggle to retain its fast disappearing hold, an attempt was made to secure judicial influence to throttle other forms of pavement being laid. The following paragraph from the New York Tribune of March 27 shows how the attempt failed and was lost in the courts:

Against the Asphalt Trust

One of the most far-reaching decisions against the Asphalt Trust has just been handed down at St. Louis. Colonel William H. Swift, president of the Fruin-Bambrick Company, one of the subsidiary companies of the Asphalt Trust, brought an action against the city as a property owner, restraining the city from going ahead with work on the street, claiming that the pavement being laid was an artificial monopoly, created by the Board of Public Improvements, by limiting the specifications. Judge Woods, who tried the case, had been the personal attorney of the Fruin-Bambrick company prior to its going into the Asphalt Trust and undoubtedly had special knowledge of his subject. The judge held against the Asphalt Trust on every point, holding that the Board of Public Improvements had provided for the most liberal kind of competition possible and consistent with the class of work desired. The law in Missouri provides that before ordering any work full plans and specifications be adopted. This means that a particular class of materials must be specified. The court, in effect, held that they could not get the improvement covered by the Warren patents, without specifying the patented bituminous pavement, and that the evidence showed that the bituminous cement was superior to other cements on the market for this purpose.

It is self-evident to any observing person that the asphalt surface has proved to be dire failure, as is shown in the New York pavements in Broad way, Seventh-ave, below Fifty-ninth street and other thoroughfares, where it is constantly undergoing repairs. The expense has been a burden to most cities and towns, and some of them have been almost bankrupt in attempting to keep up the rapidly disintegrating pavements. Almost every municipality would gladly adopt an form of pavement that would be free from deterioration and remain firm for any considerable length of time, while at the same time it would be a relief from a monopoly that was burdensome.

The president is said to have enjoyed his visit in Milwaukee. The city is noted for hospitality, and her citizens are good entertainers.

The battle of the ballots is on today and seven o'clock tonight will determine, whether good citizenship or "progressive" democracy, has won.

The tax payers and citizens generally possess common sense, and it is safe to say that they have exercised it today.

The Gazette office will be open tonight for election returns. The polls close at 7 o'clock and results should be known by nine.

Editor Ring of Nelsville appears to be an all round fighter.

COUNCIL ACTS ONLY ON THE FIFIELD SUITS.

THE LEAGUE BACKS OTHERS

Members of Municipal Movement Will Have a Chance to Decide

Question: Settlement of the two suits instituted by the Municipal League against members of the common council of the city will undoubtedly be reached in the very near future. All that remains, it is stated on the best of authority, is ratification by the League membership of the agreement proposed by the attorneys in the civil cases. Nothing final, however, is to be done until those men whose names stand on the roll of the League have an opportunity to protest, if they so desire.

By agreement between the attorneys, the suit which has been mistaken by some persons as one of the Municipal League cases, that brought by the Fifield brothers, has been dismissed. Yesterday afternoon Judge Dunwiddie signed papers to that effect. The action was instituted by James S. and Frank E. Fifield against John Brown, I. F. Connors and J. B. McLean. The terms on which the agreement was reached, have not been made public.

Pres. Parker's Statement
President George S. Parker, of the Municipal League is responsible for the statement that the League had nothing to do with this suit, either in bringing it or in effecting a settlement.

"Fifield brothers acted without consultation with the League," he said, "and the League does not assume responsibility for the suit. The two cases which were brought by the League, against Alderman McLean and Gilkey, have not been settled, and will not be until a meeting of the League is held. Anyone who tells you that an agreement has been made or the terms on which an agreement is to be made, is guessing at it."

League Meeting Planned
Mr. Parker went on to explain that a meeting will probably be called within a few days. There was some talk of fixing tomorrow evening for such a meeting, but it was found that some of the men who had been prominent in the league from its inception could not be present then, and postponement was decided upon. The action of the city council last night in authorizing the city attorney to sign stipulations consenting to the dismissal of the three suits named, has only the effect of paving the way for the dismissal of the cases. The city alone has not the power to drop the action.

Terms of Agreement
For several days rumors of settlement have been rife and in some quarters men have spoken with a considerable degree of certainty, although they are not in a position to tell of the terms of the agreement. It is said—on how good authority remains to be seen—that the terms include the retirement of certain officials from politics and the payment of a sum of money to the city treasurer. The statement is made that a certified check for the amount is now in the hands of a third party, awaiting action by the league.

GOOD COMPANY AT OPERA HOUSE

The Gaskell Stock Company is Far Superior to the Average Repertoire Companies.

In the opening night of their week's engagement the Gaskell Stock company redemonstrated their superiority over the average road repertoire troupe. The Myers Grand was packed from pit to peak and the applause granted by the audience was noisily sincere. Mr. Gaskell and his wife, Miss Niblo, were easily the favorites, but the company as a whole is well balanced and capable. The bill last night was "A Silent Partner."

For the first time in the history of the house, an orchestra is being used for a week's stand booking at popular prices. Under the leadership of Prof. Lake, the musicians are adding greatly to the effect of the production, and their presence cannot fail to please the patrons of the house. The programmed numbers last night consisted of two marches, an overture, and an intermezzo.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

On and after April 1st, 1903, no contract will be made for business local. The rate for this class of advertising will be ten cents per line for each and every issue of either Daily or Weekly. The Gazette adopts this policy for two reasons:

First: To improve the news columns of the paper. The final consideration of any newspaper, is the reader; and its value to the advertiser depends entirely upon its popularity with the reading public. Business local frequently flood the composing room the last hour before the paper goes to press, and news is sacrificed to meet the demands of this class of business.

Second: The Daily Gazette is rapidly extending its circulation throughout the county, and the Janesville market an opportunity to talk to the farmer as well as the city customer, six days in the week. This means faster machinery, and increased expense in producing a paper as well as increased value for advertising purposes.

The paper has long enjoyed a liberal patronage from home merchants, and it is in position today to furnish better service than at any time in its history.

LARGE FORCE IS TO GO TO WORK

Fully Twenty Men Will Be Employed on the New Postoffice Tomorrow.

The contractors have a force of men in the city large enough to rush the work along at a merry pace. Most of them have been imported from Chicago, Danville, and other Illinois towns. No delays are anticipated from this time on.

MORE BUSINESS LESS POLITICS

CANVASS THUS FAR POINTS TO LEAGUE VICTORY.

VOTE IS VERY LIGHT THIS YEAR

The Contests Appear To Be in The Second and Fifth Wards.

Although greater consideration on the part of the weather man could not be asked for, yet a light vote was registered today. At an early hour this afternoon the only ward where any considerable showing had been made was in the Fifth, where the most strenuous aldermanic battle is on. Carriages were busy all day in taking citizens from their places of business and their homes to the appointed voting places.

There was rather less eleven-hour canvassing than usual. In general the candidates who were in evidence were willing to let their rejection or election stand upon the attitude of their following as it was last night.

Drew Voters Out
Those who were most active spent their time in inducing the citizens to go to the polls. One of the exhortations which is said to have been very effective is a placard on the door of one of the closed saloons, "Go and vote."

As to the result of the election, only conjecture is possible at this time, but from the showing made at the caucuses and party conventions the general opinion on the street seems to be that the outcome will be a distinct triumph for the supporters of the citizens' ticket. The aldermanic fight seems to be in the Second and Fifth wards.

Vote Cast

Comparison of the vote a year ago with that today is given below:

	1902	1903
First Ward	61	65
Second Precinct	102	125
Second Ward	106	108
Second Precinct	150	168
Third Ward	165	150
Second Precinct	156	131
Fourth Ward	150	146
Second Precinct	177	148
Fifth Ward	112	184

Vote is Light

Two years ago when the campaign was for mayor and Richard Valentine was the democratic candidate and Victor Richardson the successful republican nominee, the vote was much heavier than this year. The First precinct gave 105 to 107 this year and 163 to 168 in the Second. The Third ward was 220 and 177 to 150 and 131 this year. The Fourth was 200 and 230 to 146 and 148. In the Fifth ward, however, the vote this year is much heavier, being 181 to 174 two years ago.

WAS NOT A CASE OF DOG RABIES

Puppy Playfully Bit Jimmy Feeny, But Was Not Mad at the Time.

James Feeny, a small boy living on the Milton avenue road, was bitten by a puppy three or four days ago, and his face and hands have broken out in several places, forming large scabs which spread rapidly. Fearing that the dog might have been suffering from rabies, although no such symptoms were present, the parent sent the boy to the health officer. An examination convinced Dr. Edden that the trouble was nothing serious. The puppy had playfully bitten the boy while the latter was teasing him with a stick, and probably slight poisoning had resulted, but nothing which could be attributed to hydrophobia.

Suite in Probate: The will of the late Mrs. Harriet D. Stafford of this city came up for probate before Judge, in the county court this morning. Mrs. Stafford left an estate of real and personal property valued at about $8000.00. Her will leaves most of her property to friends and her relatives and heirs contested and undertook to break it. A great deal of feeling has arisen over the matter as the heirs feel that they are entitled to the property, but the will clearly indicates her wish in the matter.

PRESIDENT CAN'T ATTEND PICNIC

CHIEF EXECUTIVE DECLINES THE WOODMEN'S INVITATION.

HAD PREVIOUS ENGAGEMENT

Was Very Sorry He Could Not Be Present, But Business Before Pleasure with Him.

President Roosevelt will not address the Modern Woodmen of America assembled at their annual picnic in this city June 4. Sherman A. Fisher, secretary of the Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin Picnic association, today received a letter from the private secretary to the nation's executive, expressing appreciation of the courtesy extended by the organization, and regret that the president's itinerary would prevent his being present at that time.

It Was Expected
There was only the most remote hope at any time that it would be possible to secure the presence of President Roosevelt at the picnic.

The fact that he is to be at Rockford on the preceding day awakened the hope that he might be able to shift his route so as to bring him to Janesville on June 4th. When the letter came this morning it was a disappointment, but no greater than had been expected. The letter bore the stamp of the White House at Washington. Its contents follow:

Letter From Loeb
Sioux Falls, S. D., April 5, 1903.
My dear sir: Your letter of the 2nd instant has been received, and in reply I beg to state that the president has engagements in Illinois covering the entire day of June 4, and it is necessary for him to proceed thence direct to Washington. Assuring you and your associates of the president's cordial appreciation of your courtesy, believe me, Very truly yours,
WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,
Secretary to the president.
Mr. S. M. Fisher, Secretary, Janesville, Wis.

Lively Run: Fire this afternoon destroyed a barn on Pearl street until recently owned by C. C. Seales, but now the property of Ed. Lawrence. It is thought it was set fire by children playing, as they were seen near the barn this afternoon.

Cost of Plumbing!

The plumbing expense bill in connection with a new or remodeled house is not as great as most persons imagine. Our figures at all times are most reasonable. Don't think of awarding your plumbing work without first having secured our figures. They cost you nothing.
